Poets and authors often write about their favourite places, or times spent in places they seek out. Where they are happiest, or most content, or a place that inspires them. They describe what they see in detail and in their imagination letting us know how they feel.

For this year's Centenary Cup Competition, we would like you to write about somewhere that affects you in a special way. You can choose to submit a poem or up to 500 words in prose. It can be purely descriptive, or an explanation of why this place means so much to you, or a combination of description and the feelings evoked by this special area.

Each entry should only include the author's name and WI and year date. By sending in the entry, each author accepts that the piece of writing may be published as an anthology or collection of entries from more than one year which may be non-winners and winning entries. This work is by members of SFWI and will carry the SFWI logo. The SFWI reserve the right to select the entries for publication and assume rights of Intellectual Property for publication. All authors who have their work published in this way will be informed in good time before publication, will assume to have agreed, and may not withdraw their work once published.

Cost per entry is £4.00

To enter please complete the entry form and submit with your entry of no more than 500 words by 28th August to admin@sawi.org or by post to SFWI Federation Office. If paying by BACS please use reference CC/Name/WI.
